Mark Thistlewayte, high sheriff of Hampshire

High sheriff's nominations call

NOMINATIONS are being sought to find those doing sterling work in the county for their communities.

Mark Thistlewayte, the high sheriff of Hampshire, is looking to honour the good work of those enhancing safety and cohesion in communities in the county.

The award is a chance for public servants, individuals, volunteers, charities and community groups to be recognised for their efforts for going above and beyond.

Mr Thistlewayte said: "The awards are to honour those who deserve special recognition for their good work and who go beyond the call of duty in their everyday activities, in the area of law and order related projects that enhance safety and cohesion in local communities."

Nominations for the awards scheme are open until February 4.
